

Workshop

On-site archaeological conservation for archaeologists

Drakon are offering a one-day workshop introducing on-site conservation to project leaders and archaeologists, delivered by an accredited archaeological conservator. Held at your premises, we offer presentation and hands-on practical experience to explain and promote best practice.

Working with your organisation we can tailor workshops to suit your archaeological conservation needs from on-site to the lab.

Content includes

Presentations

- The need for conservation
- Burial environments and object preservation
- Recognising hoards/ special objects
- When to ask for help

Practicals

- How to block lift an object
- Packaging
- Transport/ Storage

Trainer: Pieta Greaves BSc, MSc, ACR

Pieta trained as a conservator at Cardiff University and has been an accredited member of the Institute of Conservation since 2011. Her specialism is the conservation of archaeological and museum objects and she has considerable field experience in both conservation and archaeology, working in the UK and abroad. Past experience includes Conservation Coordinator for the Staffordshire Hoard, Senior Conservator at AOC Archaeology and she now delivers conservation and x-ray services to a wide range of clients.
